Podsumowanie

Strategic Application Engineer and Team Leader with a proven ability to develop business and technical expertise in dynamic international environments. Aspiring and adaptable, I take charge of technology development and evaluation during the sales process. A natural communicator, I effortlessly translate technical jargon into client-centric language. Recognized for leading a multi-million-dollar cost-saving project on a global scale. Successful in meeting technical and commercial objectives, executing projects seamlessly, and excelling in troubleshooting and crisis management. Dedicated to promoting a culture of innovation, digital transformation, LEAN practices, and driving performance improvements. Seeking opportunities to contribute my skills as a standalone Application Engineer or take the lead in shaping successful engineering teams.
